In January of this year, the new Franke EXOS. line of washbasins and accessories received the quality label Plus X Award in three categories.

A jury consisting of well-respected specialist journalists and experts awarded the EXOS. line for its exceptional product features in the categories High Quality, Design and Functionality.

EXOS. convinced the jury of the biggest innovation award worldwide with its exceptional design, intelligent and easy operational comfort and the use and processing of high quality materials.

The new harmoniously matched washbasins and accessories show a consistent design language with their clear form. EXOS. products fit perfectly into public and semi-public washrooms with an elegant and timeless linear appearance.

The accessories offer different front materials made of stainless steel, white or black single-pane safety glass that are interchangeable. In addition to that, the range stands out with customized washbasin solutions for elegant single, multiple and disabled washbasins made of MIRANIT mineral material. Architects and planners can now benefit from three Plus X factors and many possibilities for a creative design of washrooms in office and administration buildings, hotels and restaurants with a guaranteed feel-good factor.
